MORTAL CAPS

Slam. Flip. Collect.

A cozy incremental about the collectible caps of the '90s — one slam sends a whole stack flying, and every cap that lands face up pays out.

THE HOOK

One slam. 108 caps in the air.

- Real 3D physics: the stack bursts, caps spin and flip — every face-up cap pays.
- Reads in one second, without sound — built for Shorts, TikTok and Reels.
- '90s caps nostalgia + grotesque monster art.

POSITIONING

The '90s caps craze, rebuilt as a number-go-up toy

WHO PLAYS

Incremental fans (Gnorp, Bills Must Be Paid, Gamblers Table) • pack-opening & collection fans • players who traded caps on the playground in the '90s

WHY THEY STAY

The physical chaos of every slam • the pull — hunting rarities in packs • completion — filling the magazine, series by series

PROMOTION IDEA

"The playground craze is back." Every slam is a one-second clip; legendary pulls, 108-cap rain and champion duels are made for Shorts and streams.

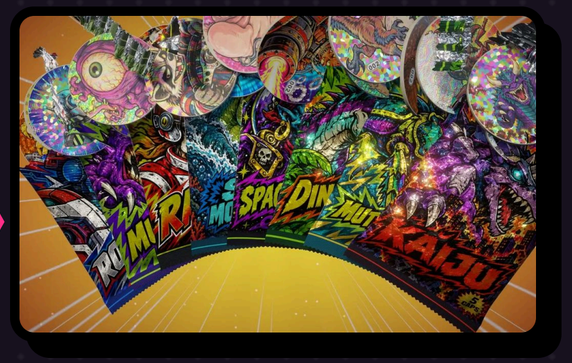

CORE LOOP

A run takes seconds. The pile keeps growing.

1

Throw the stack

Your whole collection lands on the table.

2

Slam

Hold, release, chain combos and slammer powers.

3

Flips pay

Face-up caps pay by rarity and series; crits, golden caps.

4

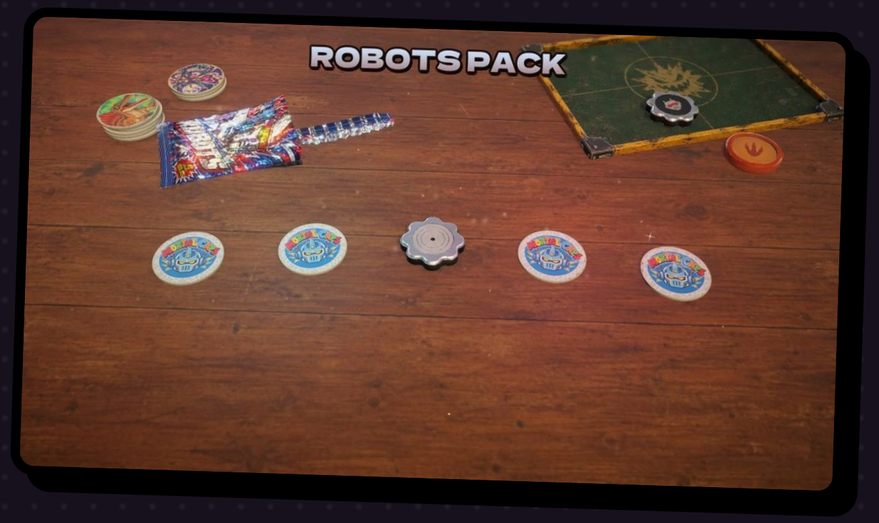

Upgrade & open packs

Bigger stack, wider slams, new caps — beat the district champion.

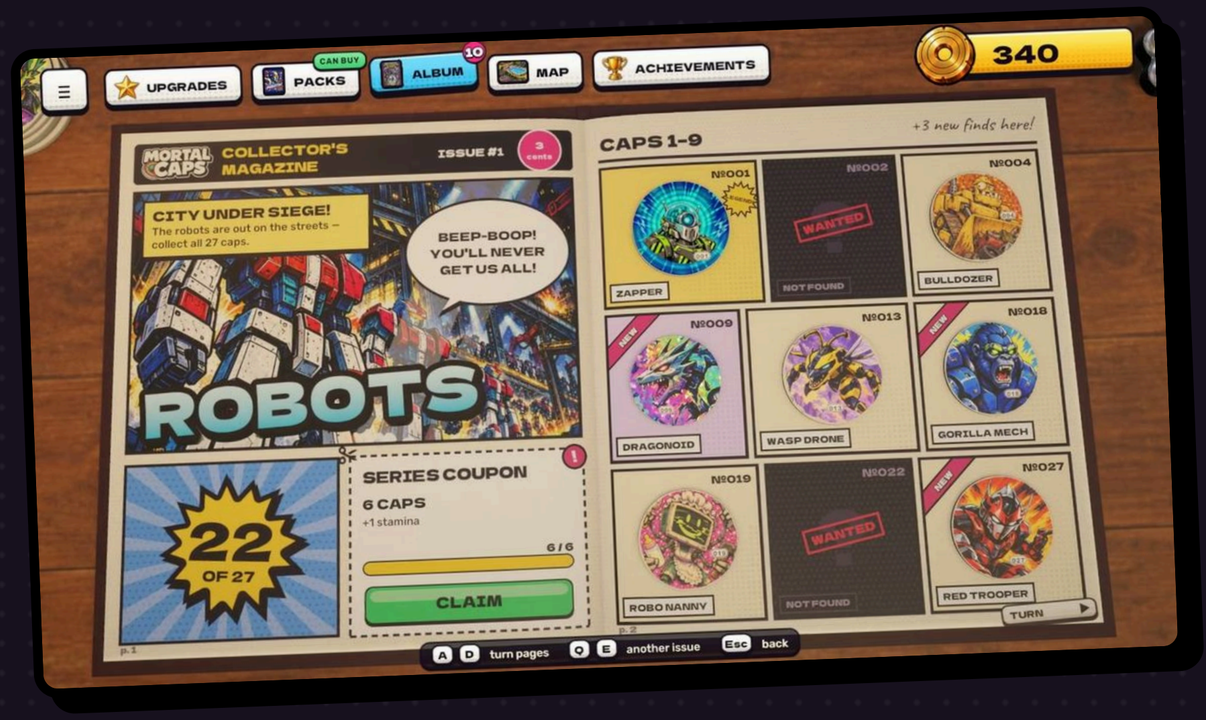

THE COLLECTION

Packs, pulls and a collector's magazine

216 caps in 8 series, each in 4 finishes — common, holo, mosaic and a legendary 3D tunnel. Foil packs, display boxes, and an animated comic-magazine album with series coupons.

LOOK

'90s grotesque, comic-sticker UI

Robots, space pirates, kaiju, mutants, racers, sea monsters, dinosaurs and mutant bugs — in the spirit of the schoolyard caps everybody traded.

TEAM

FunFactor – independent studio

- Design, code, art direction, 3D, video and all marketing assets made in-house.
- Unity 6 (URP), real-time 3D physics; fast tooling — bots for balance, shot director for marketing footage.
- Art pipeline: illustrations created with AI tools, then curated and finished by hand; 3D slammers built from them. Disclosed on Steam.

MORTAL CAPS

Let's find its players.

The game, the page and the assets are ready. We are looking for a marketing partner to put Mortal Caps in front of players; we are not asking for development funding.
